Rock Star Fashion: tips from designer Esther Nash

Have you ever wanted to be a rock star, or just look like one? But you can't carry a tune or strum a guitar and/or have tone-deaf ears? Well now, thanks to Esther Nash's Rock Star Fashion tips, you will blend so well into the rock scene you may even start your own following—complete with your own groupies pleading for your autograph and backstage tickets!

Even if you don't land a gig or tour the country with your own rock show, you'll be on stage before you know it—turning heads with your new rock star threads! These easy-to-follow tips will transform your old clothes into glam-rock rage.

Step 1

To start, you need a jacket that fits well. Pick out something you don't wear so much anymore and it will become the most complimented item you own!

Step 2

Cut off the jacket's sleeves at the seams to show off those beautiful arms. Then cut midriff of jacket at any length you desire to show off your sexy abdominals like never before.

Step 3

Now you are ready to decorate and make your bustier vest shine. Take those safety pins and fasten them sporadically all over your vest to create a unique look. For added style, pin antique pins on the collar or back of the vest.

Step 4

Now it's time to brighten up your vest with some colorful paint. The best place to paint is outside, where you have more space and can work freely and creatively. Be sure to cover your work area with newspaper and wear plastic gloves to protect your hands. Splash different colors of paint all over—consider your vest a canvas!

Now you're ready to rock! Don't forget to send me backstage passes and front row seats to your up and coming rock tour!
